

BUSINESS • News

Status Update: Annual Walk4ALZ returns in-person to Angel Stadium

The nonprofit expects 2,500 Orange County residents to join the event.

Alzheimer's Orange County will host its annual Walk4ALZ on April 1 with the event returning in-person to Angel Stadium of Anaheim. The nonprofit is looking to raise more than a half- million dollars to support services for those suffering from Alzheimer's and dementia. (Courtesy of AlzOC)

By SAMANTHA GOWEN | sgowen@scng.com | Orange County

Register

PUBLISHED: March 20, 2023 at 9:02 a.m. | UPDATED: March 20, 2023 at 9:05 a.m.

Alzheimer's Orange County's annual Walk4ALZ is back, returning April 1 to Angel Stadium of Anaheim after a pandemic-related hiatus.

The Alzheimer's walk raises money to help Orange County residents living with the disease or related dementia. This year, organizers want to raise at least $500,000 to support services for residents battling Alzheimer's and dementia.

The nonprofit expects 2,500 Orange County residents to join the event.

Walk4ALZ will include activities, games and an array of vendors in the health and fitness industries.

Leashed dogs are welcome to attend, but only in the festival area. Because of stadium restrictions, Fido and his pals are not allowed on the walk course.

Registration is free. Check-in for the event begins at 8 a.m. Participants are asked to enter the stadium off Orangewood.

For more information about registration, donating or volunteering and sponsorships opportunities, go to alzoc.org/walkrun.

