Hoarding Disorder: Understanding and Treatment

Hoarding behavior can diminish quality of life and jeopardize an older person's health and safety. Learn how to recognize hoarding behaviors and to identify the associated risk factors. The latest research and various treatments will be discussed, including a more respectful, 'trauma informed' approach that preserves dignity, and focuses on the person and not the accumulated items.

At the completion of the course, participants will be able to:

1. Describe the common characteristics of hoarding behaviors.
2. Recognize the impact that hoarding can have on family and community.
3. Identify treatments that can help people with hoarding disorder.

Presenter: Christa Tipton, LCSW is a Senior Social Worker at Adult Protective Services who is committed to reducing elder abuse through technology. She is also the owner of Echo-istTIC, offering consulting and training with trauma informed care lens. Christa has a Masters in Social Work and a Bachelor's Degree in Psychology and Social Behavior. Since 2013, she has been active with the Orange County Task Force on Hoarding and serves the National Association of Social Workers as Co-Chair of the CA Technology Council.
