

LEGAL AND FINANCIAL PLANNING IN DEMENTIA CARE

Wednesday, April 8, 2026 | 10:00 AM - 11:00 AM

Planning ahead can help families avoid confusion, stress, and crisis decisions later. This educational session explores the key legal and financial considerations that arise when someone is living with dementia or experiencing cognitive decline. Participants will learn about essential planning tools such as powers of attorney, advance health care directives, living wills, and financial management strategies. The class will also discuss long-term care planning, ways to protect assets, and how to prepare for future care needs. Understanding these issues early can help individuals maintain dignity, autonomy, and security while reducing the burden on family members. Whether you are planning for yourself or helping support a loved one, this session provides practical information to help you take proactive steps and make informed decisions about the future.
